

BETHLEHEM, Pennsylvania – May 5, 2009 – Jim Edwards, Partner, and David Will, Senior Investment Consultant, of Molewski Financial Partners ("MFP") have been awarded the ACCREDITED INVESTMENT FIDUCIARY ("AIF®") designation from the Center for Fiduciary Studies. The AIF designation signifies training in fiduciary responsibility and follows a two-day course and examination.

Edwards specializes in advising clients of their fiduciary responsibilities under qualified retirement plans and consulting with companies and boards on the development, implementation, and informal funding of nonqualified deferred compensation and executive retention plans. Will specializes in investment manager research and due diligence, asset allocation analysis, asset class research, preparation, and delivery of client performance reports to the firm's qualified plan clients.

The Center for Fiduciary Studies is the first full-time training and research facility for fiduciaries. The Center, associated with the Center for Executive Education, Joseph M. Katz Graduate School of Business, University of Pittsburgh, teaches fiduciary standards of care and investment best practices designed for investment professionals. For more information on future events, training programs and fiduciary products, visit www.fi360.com or contact J. Richard Lynch at the Center for Fiduciary Studies at (412) 741-8140.

MFP is a highly specialized financial consulting and advisory firm of 20 professionals.
